

THE BRIMMER

HAPPY ST PATRICK'S DAY!

MARCH, 2010

THE PRESIDENT'S MESSAGE

Brothers,

As I write this we are in the midst of another snow storm. I can't believe we looked forward to this as children. Oh well, better days are ahead, the Lenten season is in full swing and the Irish High Holy Day is almost upon us. Speaking of St. Patrick's Day, our annual parade festivities will begin with a 10:30am Mass at the Wissinoming Yacht Club. The Mass is being concelebrated again this year by Fr.'s Smith and McCandless. After Mass we will board the buses and head for the mustering point at 20th & JFK Blvd. The total parade package is $30.00 pp, this includes, parade badge, bus, rally towel and after party. The after party only is $20.00. See P.J. Driscoll for tickets to the after party. There are only 200 tickets and they are being sold on a first come, first served basis. NO TICKETS will be reserved.

On a more somber note, our Division lost another solid citizen recently when Gene Spoerl passed away suddenly on February 12th. Gene was a good man and always a pleasure to be around. I'll miss him at the next A.O.H. fundraiser. He didn't miss many. Our thoughts and prayers go out to brother Jerry and the rest of the family.

We finally got our Home elections held. On February 16th, the membership elected the following Brothers to posts in the Home:

Home Chairman: Tom Lavelle

Home Treasurer: Chuck Walsh

Home Trustee: Jim Lockhart

Home Trustee: Ed "Moe" Moore

Congratulations to you all, and congratulations to the Brothers who ran but were not elected. Stay involved, we need you!!!!!!!!!!

In closing, I would like to wish everyone continued health and happiness and ask a favor. Please remember our motto, "Friendship, Unity and Christian Charity" when talking about, or speaking with a brother. I realize that nobody's perfect, but let's all try to do a better job.

Be safe, and, as always, thank you for your continued support.

Yours in our motto,

Tom

TUG'S TALKIN' HERE

Recently, I was reminded about two Tony Perfidio stories. Tony is well known to the AOH 87 Community. He's a member of the bowling team, shows up at our golf tournaments, and is an avid reader of Tug's Talking. It seems that Tony was on his way home from bowling one night, and with his wife Barb driving, they stopped into Dunkin' Donuts for coffee. When he walked in, he saw a young female, minus a jacket, right outside of the door, smoking a cigarette. Tony, being a compassionate guy, decided to buy this freezing woman a coffee. When he handed it to her, she looked confused. He told her that he thought she could warm up with this beverage. She informed him that she worked there, and was just outside catching a smoke! On another ride home, he ran into Wawa for a coffee and a pie. When he came out, he got into the passengers seat, opened his pie, and started drinking his coffee. He asked Barb why she wasn't taking off. The guy who was behind the wheel told him that he was not Barb. Tony looked at the next car over and saw Barb, obviously, with no sympathy, laughing at Tony's misfortune. By the way, could you tell that Tony grew up with our Hero, Matty?

On a recent trip home from the Binlids, where Obie was manning the taps, Mo was driving south on Belgrade past Allegheny, when he observed "crime scene" tape stretched across his windshield. To his amazement, "Mo" man had driven into a crime scene. The Police Officer had Mo back up and proceed in a different direction.

The lovely First Lady, Eileen Healey, had recently been treated at Wills Eye Hospital for a condition of glaucoma, which has a narrowing affect on your eye sight. Now we know what she sees in our illustrious President. I am thinking "Shallow Eileen".

A couple of upcoming events....Sat, March 13th will be the Leprechaun Walk/Run on the West River Drive.....Sat May 8th will be a Breast Cancer Awareness Walk, sponsored by LAOH Division #39. This will be a walk around the Perzel/Mayfair Community Center. I have registration forms for both of these well run events. Just contact me.

I am trying to gauge the interest in running a trip or two this summer. I'm looking into either Lehigh Valley, Reading or Trenton, for minor league baseball. Also, we will be reviving the Delaware Park trip. If anyone or everyone is interested, please contact me.

EDITOR'S NOTE

As we get the new Brimmer up and running, we are looking for input from you for content. If you have an idea or would like to contribute, please talk to Tom Healey or send an email to "Falcon" Mike Ferris at

ferrism@comcast.net

We can't guarantee that your ideas will make it into the Brimmer, but we'll consider any and all serious suggestions.

NEXT MEETING

THE NEXT MONTHLY MEETING OF THE AOH - DIVISION 87 WILL BE HELD AT KEVIN DONNELLY HALL, 2171 WAKELING ST, ON TUESDAY, MARCH 9, 2010 AT 7:30PM. IF YOU HAVEN'T PAID YOUR 2010 DUES, THIS WOULD BE A GOOD CHANCE TO DO SO.

REDS FALCON

Did you know that Tug McGraw ran in the last Philadelphia marathon. When the starter fired the starters gun, all the runners from Kensington returned fire.

Bumper sticker sited in Binlids parking lot. Guns don't kill people and a spoon didn't make Rosie O'Donnell fat.

Now that Allen Iverson has returned to the 76"ers can Meadowlark Lemon be far behind. A.I. wanted to return because he missed practice.

Did you read that a letter from Thomas Jefferson was discovered in some old papers down in Delaware. The jist of the letter was thanking Bill Gibbons (Div 87) for his help in getting out the vote in the river wards in the last election.

Do you remember when the three quickest ways for information to travel was telephone, telegraph and tell a woman. Well now it's twitter, face book and tell a woman.

The Kensington String Band tried a Rosie Ruiz this year, they all jumped on the subway and thought that they won the String Band Division by crossing the finish line first. They all went back to the half-way house dejected.

When the guy that tried to blow up the plane in Detroit on Christmas day was arraigned, the judge asked him how he pleaded. He pleaded not guilty. The judge said "Liar liar pants on fire.

You can say what you want about the South, but I ain't never heard of anyone wanting to retire to the North.

Did you hear about the Buddhist who refused Novocain during a root canal? His goal: transcendental medication.

IRISH SLAVERY

Editor's Note: This is a three part story about a topic that is either forgotten, misunderstood or ignored.

by James F. Cavanaugh for www.RaceandHistory.com

There are a great many K/Cavanaughs in North America who trace their ancestry back to a Charles Cavanaugh, who arrived in Virginia, with a brother or cousin named Philemon Cavanagh (Felim or Phelim), on or about 1700. Their descendants most often spell their name with a C, although a variety of both C and K spellings are found, even within the same immediate family. They were originally concentrated in the Southeastern United States, particularly Virginia, North Carolina and Georgia, but now spread to everywhere. Although long standing family traditions trace Charles and Philemon of 1700 arrival back to Colonel Charles Cavanaugh of Carrickduff and Clonmullen, (the son of Sir Morgan Cavanagh, the son of Donnal Spanaigh Cavanagh), a recorded link still evades researchers.

A possible link, however, was found in Barbados, where the birth of a Charles Cavanaugh, son of Charles Cavanaugh, was registered there in January 1679. At the same time, another Cavanagh was registered as inbound on a ship to Barbados from Liverpool. And further complicating the entry is the same registry records the death of a Charles Cavanaugh, son of Charles at the same time. So the questions: was the dead Charles the new born baby; or perhaps the father of the baby; or maybe the inbound Cavanagh who may have died on the trip to Barbados, with his death recorded upon arrival; or another Charles; or....?

These questions are still unanswered, but a more intriguing question is what were the Cavanaughs doing in Barbados in the first place? The answer takes us down a revolting path wandering through one of the most insensitive and savage episodes in history, where the greed and avarice of the English monarchy systematically planned the genocide of the Irish, for commercial profit, and executed a continuing campaign to destroy all traces of Irish social, cultural and religious being. As the topic was politically sensitive, little has been written about this attempted genocide of the Irish, and what has been written has been camouflaged because it is an ugly and painfully brutal story. But the story should be told.

Transportation and Banishment

If Queen Elizabeth I had lived in the 20th Century. she would have been viewed with the same horror as Hitler and Stalin. Her policy of Irish genocide was pursued with such evil zest it boggles the mind of modern men. But Elizabeth was only setting the stage for the even more savage program that was to follow her, directed specifically to exterminate the Irish. James II and Charles I continued Elizabeth's campaign, but Cromwell almost perfected it. Few people in modern so-called "civilized history" can match the horrors of Cromwell in Ireland. It is amazing what one man can do to his fellow man under the banner that God sanctions his actions!

During the reign of Elizabeth I, English privateers captured 300 African Negroes, sold them as slaves, and initiated the English slave trade. Slavery was, of course, an old established commerce dating back into earliest history. Julius Caesar brought over a million slaves from defeated armies back to Rome. By the 16th century, the Arabs were the most active, generally capturing native peoples, not just Africans, marching them to a seaport and selling them to ship owners. Dutch, Portuguese and Spanish ships were originally the most active, supplying slaves to the Spanish colonies in America. It was not a big business in the beginning, but a very profitable one, and ship owners were primarily interested only in profits. The morality of selling human beings was never a factor to them.

After the Battle of Kinsale at the beginning of the 17th century, the English were faced with a problem of some 30,000 military prisoners, which they solved by creating an official policy of banishment. Other Irish leaders had voluntarily exiled to the continent, in fact, the Battle of Kinsale marked the beginning of the so-called "Wild Geese", those Irish banished from their homeland. Banishment, however, did not solve the problem entirely, so James II encouraged selling the Irish as slaves to planters and settlers in the New World colonies. The first Irish slaves were sold to a settlement on the Amazon River in South America in 1612. It would probably be more accurate to say that the first "recorded" sale of Irish slaves was in 1612, because the English, who were noted for their meticulous record keeping, simply did not keep track of things Irish, whether it be goods or people, unless such was being shipped to England. The disappearance of a few hundred or a few thousand Irish was not a cause for alarm, but rather for rejoicing. Who cared what their names were anyway, they were gone.

Almost as soon as settlers landed in America, English privateers showed up with a good load of slaves to sell. The first load of African slaves brought to Virginia arrived at Jamestown in 1619. English shippers, with royal encouragement, partnered with the Dutch to try and corner the slave market to the exclusion of the Spanish and Portuguese. The demand was greatest in the Spanish occupied areas of Central and South America, but the settlement of North America moved steadily ahead, and the demand for slave labor grew.

The Proclamation of 1625 ordered that Irish political prisoners be transported overseas and sold as laborers to English planters, who were settling the islands of the West Indies, officially establishing a policy that was to continue for two centuries. In 1629 a large group of Irish men and women were sent to Guiana, and by 1632, Irish were the main slaves sold to Antigua and Montserrat in the West Indies. By 1637 a census showed that 69% of the total population of Montserrat was Irish slaves, which records show was a cause of concern to the English planters. But there were not enough political prisoners to supply the demand, so every petty infraction carried a sentence of transporting, and slaver gangs combed the country sides to kidnap enough people to fill out their quotas.

Although African Negroes were better suited to work in the semi-tropical climates of the Caribbean, they had to be purchased, while the Irish were free for the catching, so to speak. It is not surprising that Ireland became the biggest source of livestock for the English slave trade.

The Confederation War broke out in Kilkenny in 1641, as the Irish attempted to throw out the English yet again, something that seem to happen at least once every generation. Sir Morgan Cavanaugh of Clonmullen, one of the leaders, was killed during a battle in 1646, and his two sons, Daniel and Charles (later Colonel Charles) continued with the struggle until the uprising was crushed by Cromwell in 1649. It is recorded that Daniel and other Carlow Kavanaghs exiled themselves to Spain, where their descendants are still found today, concentrated in the northwestern corner of that country. Young Charles, who married Mary Kavanagh, daughter of Brian Kavanagh of Borris, was either exiled to Nantes, France, or transported to Barbados... or both. Although we haven't found a record of him in a military life in France, it is known that the crown of Leinster and other regal paraphernalia associated with the Kingship of Leinster was brought to France, where it was on display in Bordeaux, just south of Nantes, until the French Revolution in 1794. As Daniel and Charles were the heirs to the Leinster kingship, one of them undoubtedly brought these royal artifacts to Bordeaux.

In the 12 year period during and following the Confederation revolt, from 1641 to 1652, over 550,000 Irish were killed by the English and 300,000 were sold as slaves, as the Irish population of Ireland fell from 1,466,000 to 616,000. Banished soldiers were not allowed to take their wives and children with them, and naturally, the same for those sold as slaves. The result was a growing population of homeless women and children, who being a public nuisance, were likewise rounded up and sold. But the worse was yet to come.

NORTH CATHOLIC UPDATE BY FALCON MIKE

North Catholic / Cristo Rey Update

Last month, I suggested that more information would be forthcoming regarding the efforts of the North Catholic/Cristo Rey planning team and the future of North Catholic. Since that time, there has been a tour of the city parishes by the team, providing information to anyone who is interested. With all of the snow in February, the information meetings have been scheduled and rescheduled, causing a delay in the process.

The schedule for the information meeting can be found at the Planning Team's website, which can be found at <http://www.nccrinfo.com>. You can also link to important pages on that site from <http://www.TheFalconNest.com>.

Please Help!

If you are a parent of a high school age young man, or you know a parent, please complete the survey on the North Catholic/Cristo Rey site (see address above). These surveys are very important in the feasibility study process and will help move the entire effort forward.

Hopefully, I'll have more to report on this topic next month.

Sports Update

Last month, I gave you an update of the fall sports teams and an up to date report on the winter sports teams. Since the last issue, the fall sports programs have completed their Catholic League play.

Basketball – The basketball team finished the season with a league record of 8-6, for a fourth place finish in the Red Division. In the first round of the playoffs, the Falcons prevailed over rival, Father Judge, on a buzzer beating shot. This was the final basketball game for the current North Catholic in the pit, and it doesn't get much better than beating the Crusaders. By the way, I heard some Judge people still crying a week after that game. The Falcons' season came to an end with a quarter-final loss to Red Division champ, LaSalle. Our hat is off to coach Guy Moore, who had to step in to lead the team after much off season adversity.

Wrestling – Coach Jim Savage dominated in the regular season, and throughout the playoffs, before falling to a very good LaSalle team in the PCL Finals. The Falcons have won, I believe 13 of the last 17 PCL titles. Great job by the entire team.

Bowling – The team that is sometimes forgotten, is also the most successful team over the past six years. Coach Joe Ramsey led the team to the teams' fourth PCL championship in the past six seasons, with a win in the finals against an upstart Kennedy-Kenrick team. Congratulations to Coach Ramsey and Bill Feltwell, for leading the team the past several years.

Baseball – We previously reported that Division 87's own Tim Murphy would manage the baseball team. Unfortunately, Tim is unable to lead the team in their final season due to health issues. There's nobody I'd like to see lead that team than Murph, but if not coaching means I'll be seeing him in June, then I have to say it's the right decision. The good news is that we fully expect Murph to once again be the host in the right field skybox in the 2010 season.
